ENCOURAGING ACTION BY BUSINESS & SMEs

What are the barriers preventing manufacturers and growing circular business models and remanufacturing? Which legal barriers are hampering action? How can consumer confidence be strengthened? And what is the role for public procurement, if any. What incentives can be introduced to encourage action? Can data and information leverage more activity?

▶ Manufacturers:

1. Franco MARZA, EMEA Reman Responsible, CNH INDUSTRIAL
2. Susanne BAKER, Senior Climate & Environment Policy Adviser, EEF-MANUFACTURERS ORGANISATION
3. Nick MORLEY, Director, CENTER FOR REMANUFACTURING & REUSE

MODERNISING WASTE POLICY

To what extent is the current waste legislative framework creating confusion and presenting blocks to circularity and remanufacturing? Is the waste hierarchy fit for purpose? Do end of life risk locking producers into recycling strategies? And should the Commission be doing more to stimulate pull measures for recovered goods and enhance the quality of the material that is being collected rather than pushing for even higher collection targets?
